Auditing Active Consultants Report

Purpose of the Report

- To identify any associates that are showing as active that need terminated or may be missing hours, audit all assignments for accuracy and consistency.

How to Run the Report

- Analyze → Active Consultants
    - Office: Enter applicable offices
    - Company: Enter applicable client name
    - Date Range: Enter applicable date range
        - When auditing for payroll, use last week's pay period based on your client (likely Mon-Sun, possibly Sun-Sat)

What to Look For

- Review applicants
    - Review applicant column to identify any terminated associates who are still showing as actively staffed and end their assignments in Avionte as needed
        - For large clients, export to excel and add list of associates on payroll for the week, then remove duplicates
        - Start date
        - End date (confirm in 2099 or terminated)
        - End reason (disregard NCNS-1st day, cancel prior to start, etc.)
- Audit assignments, including:
    - Rates: Sort by position to ensure that each rate aligns with the assignment
        - Pay rates
        - Markup %
        - Bill rates
        - OT: pay rate, markup %, bill rate
        - DT: pay rate, markup %, bill rate
    - Assignment: Should be the same across all assignments
        - Job owner (AM)
        - Commission user 1 (AM)
        - Timesheet approver (internal branch)
        - Client rep (business development)
        - Company office (should match position, if applicable)
    - Associate:
        - Talent status: Should be active unless terminated
        - Phone number: Should not be blank

Auditing Missing Hours Report

Purpose of the Report

- The Missing Hours report provides a list of associate names that are currently showing as staffed at a client that are showing as having worked zero hours the prior week. The intention of this audit is to identify any individuals whose assignments may need to be terminated in Avionte.

How to Access the Report

- Each Branch Manager receives an automatic “push” report to their email every Thursday showing Missing Hours for all clients. The Branch Manager will send this report out every Thursday to their teams for Account Managers to audit for their individual clients.
