Direct Hire Job Orders in Avionte

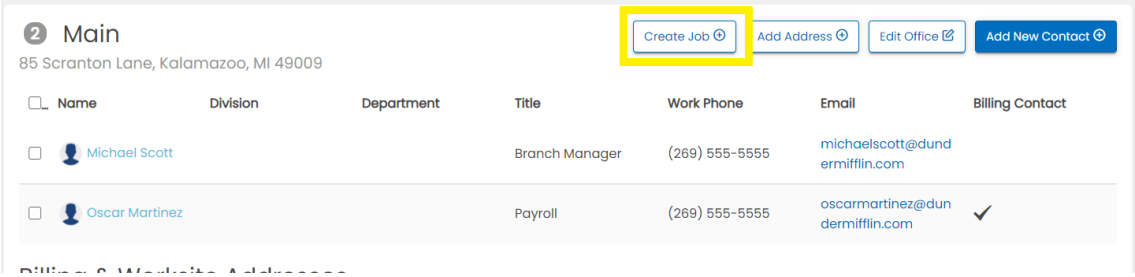

Creating a New Direct Hire Job Order

A brand new direct hire job order must be created if you are creating a direct hire job order for the first time for a company or office within a company.

If you have a similar job already created under the same company office, you can choose to clone the job order instead of creating a new one.

To create a new direct hire job order:

From the "Contacts" page of the Company profile, locate the correct "Office" and click "Create Job."

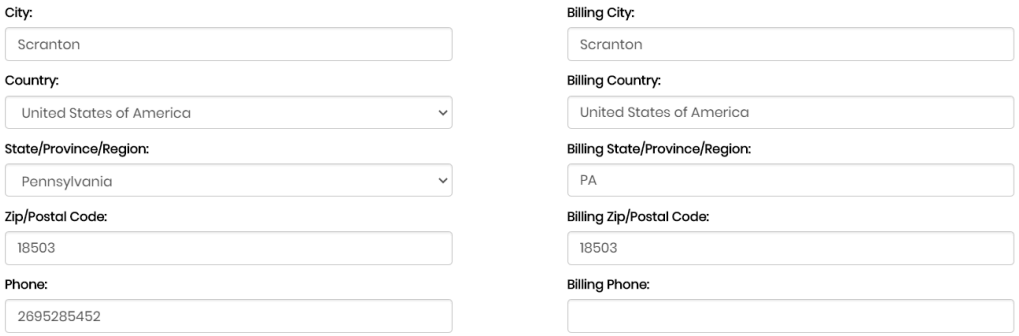

Client Information

A fly out will appear prompting you to enter the details of the Job Order. Most of this information will default based on the Contact and Company profile associated with the Job Order:

Cloning a Job Order

To create a new job order that is similar to an existing job order, you can clone the job rather than creating a new one (anyone already hired to the existing job order will not transfer to the new job order).

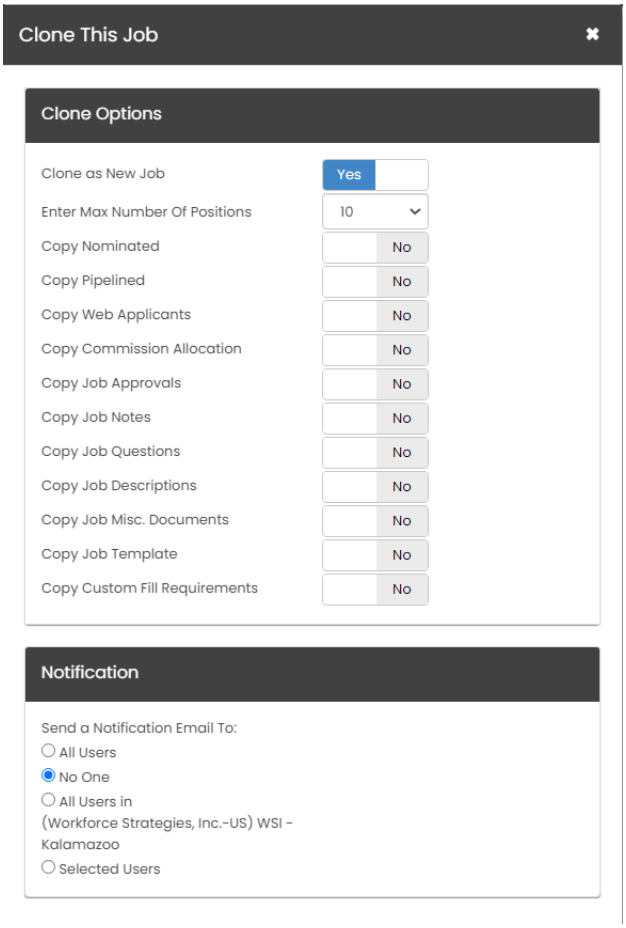

From the job order you want to clone, click the "Create Clone" or "+" button next to "Clones" on the top right of the job order.

- Select "Yes" to clone as a new job, and "No" to the remaining options.

Once the new job order is created, you can adjust job order details such as title, pay rate, and start date.

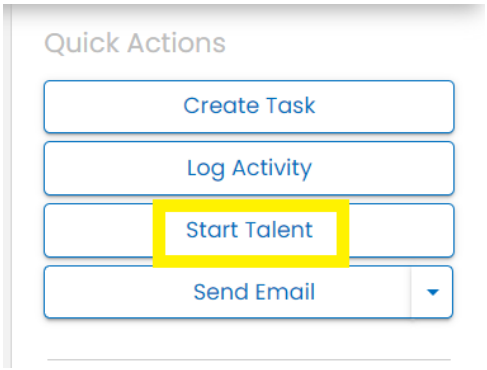

Be sure the job order you're cloning:

- Belongs under the same office/department as the job you're needing to create.
    - If this is not the case, you will need to create a new job using the steps above.
- Has an up to date markup, salary, and other "Operations and Financials" information.
    - If information for the new job needs to be different from the job you're cloning, be sure to update this immediately after cloning the job and changing the title.

- A fly out will appear for you to select a job to staff them to. You can Search by job title, company, etc. to locate the job you wish to staff them to. Once you've located the job, click on the circle under Select beside the correct job.

From the flyout, enter the following information:

Ending a Direct Hire Job Order

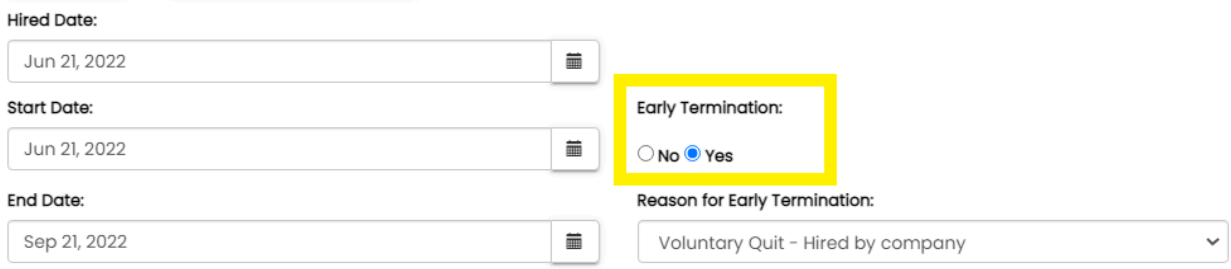

Direct hire job orders should be kept open until one of the following occurs:

1. The associate leaves the position OR
2. The associate reaches the final date when WSI invoices the client
    a. For example, if the contract is to bill the client 25% after the associates 1st day, 25% at 30 days, 25% at 60 days, and 25% at 90 days, the assignment should be closed out once we invoice the client the final 25% at the 90 day mark.

- From the Hired Details, click the edit pencil next to the name of the associate whose assignment you need to end.

- Under "Early Termination," select "Yes." This will cause the end date and reason for early termination menus to appear.
    - If the associate leaves the position before our final billing date, enter their last date worked and reason for leaving the job in these menus.
    - If the assignment is being closed due to the associate reaching the final billing date with the client, enter the last date of billing (for example, their 90th day of employment) as their end date and "Voluntary Quit - Hired by Company" for the early termination reason.

- In the Notes section, add any notes to payroll or clarifications regarding the end of the assignment.

Notes:

- Save your changes to close the assignment and add the notes to the Activities tab.
