Posting Jobs through Avionte

Posting Process

1. Create job order: Start with a job order that does not have any associates staffed to it. The easiest way to do this is to clone an existing job for the client you're wanting to post a job for.

2. Title the job order
    a. Title for jobs on Indeed/Talroo: DNU - Indeed/Talroo - Client name - Job title made public
        i. Adding "Indeed" to the title of the job order helps easily audit what jobs should be visible on Indeed and sort by which jobs need to be reposted regularly.
    b. Title for jobs on website / other job boards only: DNU - Client name - Job title made public

3. Top section of job order
    a. Job owner: Can be removed to prevent email notifications for each application.
    b. Branch: Should be the generic branch name for your branch
        i. E.g. "Grand Rapids, MI" not "Grand Rapids, MI (Roskam)"

4. Pay rate: From the Operations and Financials widget of the job order, put the starting pay for the position in the target pay field.
    a. Note: Min and max pay fields will not pull through when posted

5. Job description: From the Job Posting Status and Options widget of the job order, select the + button to begin posting the job.

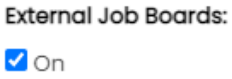

a. From the Document Manager Folder drop down, select your branch. Then, in the Document drop down, select the job description for the job you'd like to post.
    i. Note: If the job description you need is not available, email marketing to initiate a new job description.
b. Confirm that the job description has all the correct details, making changes as needed.
    i. Remove any links to videos that may be included in job descriptions.
    ii. If posting the job to Indeed, add your branch's IND# code to the bottom of the job description.
    iii. Do not copy and paste job descriptions in this box as formatting does not carry through to job boards once posted.

6. Job posting details
    a. Area: Once your job description looks correct, scroll down and enter the city, state and zipcode where you want the job to be posted. This will pre-load with information from the job order, you only need to change it if you're posting the job in a different city.
    b. Job title: Write the job title as you'd like it to appear on our website/job boards. Job titles should not include additional keywords such as "no THC testing," pay rates, or shifts

7. External job boards: Turn external job boards on by clicking the checkbox. All posted jobs will automatically go to our website, and can be added to additional job boards using this section.

    a. Indeed posts: Select ALL check box options (Confirm that the IND# code has been added to the job description to sponsor the post)
    b. Website only posts: Select all checkboxes EXCEPT for Indeed. All job boards aside from Indeed These platforms are free and pull from different websites to create more visibility for our posts.

8. Post job: Click the post job button to finalize the job post.
    a. Note: Job posts will not immediately appear on the website or Indeed. These may take up to a few hours to be visible. You will be able to see which job boards you selected from the job posting status and options widget.

9. Toggles
    a. Resume toggle: This toggle is used to determine if you'd like to require a resume for candidates to apply. This toggle should be "yes" for quick applies, and is oftentimes "no" for other posted jobs.
    b. Apply through Indeed: Toggle to "yes" if the job is being posted to Indeed.

If job is posted to website and free job boards only, it should look like this once complete:

If job is posted to Indeed in addition to the website and free job boards, it should look like this once complete:

Edit Job Posting

Job description / title / location: Click the eye icon from the job posting status and options widget, make the necessary change, and save.

Pay rate: Update the target pay rate in the operations and financials widget of the job order. Then, click the eye icon and make any change in the job description (even adding a space will work), and click save to make the new pay rate pull through.

> Note: Making edits to a job post will not "repost" the job on Indeed or change the date it displays as being posted. This will only make the change.

Reposting Process

Website / free job boards: If a job is only posted to our website and free job boards, it does not need to be reposted. Jobs on our website do not show how long they have been active.

Indeed: If a job is posted on Indeed, best practice is to repost these monthly. This ensures our jobs on Indeed do not appear out of date to job seekers based on how long it has been posted. To repost on Indeed, a new job order must be used each time in order for the posting date to be updated as any postings deleted and reposted to the same job order will display the original date it was posted after reposting.

> Note: To remove a job post from Indeed but keep it posted on the website, job posts must also be completely deleted in Avionte and reposted. Follow the same process listed below to remove an Indeed post and repost to the website to avoid confusion when the job is later reposted to Indeed.

1. Clone the job order: Use the job order you'd like to repost to create a duplicate job order.
2. Close the previously used job order: Once a job order has been used for posting, it cannot be used again. To more easily track which job orders have already been used, any job orders that are being reposted should be closed with the status "Indeed Close." Select this status from the drop down menu beneath the job title that defaults to "open" and confirm that you'd like to close the job, which will remove all job postings as well.

3. Post from the new job order: Follow the steps above to repost the job using the newly created job order.
